TONY BLAIR IN CONVERSATION WITH BILL CLINTON AT THE NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER ON SEPTEMBER 13

Philadelphia, PA (September 8, 2010) – President Bill Clinton and former Prime Minister Tony Blair will participate in an on-stage conversation Monday, September 13 at 2:30 p.m. in the National Constitution Center's Kimmel Theater. The conversation coincides with the publication of Tony Blair's bestselling memoir, A Journey, and the presentation of the 2010 Liberty Medal, which the Center will award to Mr. Blair later that same evening.

This event is not open to the public. The National Constitution Center will broadcast a live-stream of both the conversation and Liberty Medal ceremony at www.constitutioncenter.org.

A Journey is Tony Blair's first-hand account of his years in office and beyond. Published to immediate international acclaim, the book has become the fastest selling political memoir in UK history. The book has also become an immediate bestseller in the US and Canada.

###

MEDIA OPPORTUNITIES

Media wishing to attend the event must be credentialed in advance (application included below). Press who are already credentialed for the 2010 Liberty Medal ceremony do not need to fill out a new form, but must notify Ashley Berke at aberke@constitutioncenter.org or 215.409.6693 to confirm attendance.

TV cameras will not be permitted inside the Kimmel Theater. C-SPAN will provide a live satellite pool feed for media interested in covering the event. Satellite coordinates will be distributed in advance of the event.

TV crews will have an opportunity to film arrival shots of President Clinton and former Prime Minister Blair prior to the event.

Still photographers will have a photo opportunity during the first ten minutes of the event. Please note that flash is not permitted.
