STORYTELLING, SONGS, AND SERVICE IN HONOR OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. DAY AT THE NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER

Philadelphia, PA (December 27, 2006) – In honor of the life and legacy of Martin Luther King, Jr., the National Constitution Center will participate in a city-wide celebration on Monday, January 15. From 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m., Constitution Center visitors of all ages will be able to enjoy activities in the museum, including storytelling sessions and musical and dramatic performances. In the spirit of Dr. King, visitors can also participate in a quilting service project focusing on the plight of homelessness. All of these activities are free, but do not include museum admission.

Visitors can lend a helping hand by sewing blankets for the quilting service project in the National Constitution Center's Gallery space. This year, the quilt project has expanded, giving everyone a chance to join together in civic service to help the less fortunate and to continue the great legacy of Dr. King. Guests will also have the opportunity to learn more about civic engagement throughout the day.

At 11:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. in the Kirby Auditorium, visitors can take part in a sing-along concert with "Two of a Kind," an award-winning, nationally touring, husband-wife duo who specialize in interactive musical programs for children. The performance will focus on themes relating to Martin Luther King, Jr. through songs, puppets, movement, and stories, all with an emphasis on interaction and participation.

Students from the Arcadia University theater department will read aloud Martin Luther King, Jr.'s famous "I Have a Dream" speech in the Grand Hall Lobby at 12:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m.

ADD TWO/MLK DAY

Young visitors won't want to miss a special story time in the Annenberg Lobby from 2:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. Children can listen to stories about Martin Luther King, Jr. and the Civil Rights Movement, read by notable figures from the Philadelphia community.

All day, there will also be a special "talkback" board in the Grand Hall Lobby for visitors to post their responses to questions relating to Martin Luther King, Jr., diversity, and citizenship.

The National Constitution Center, located at 525 Arch St. on Philadelphia's Independence Mall, is an independent, nonpartisan, nonprofit organization dedicated to increasing public understanding of the U.S. Constitution and the ideas and values it represents. Opened on July 4, 2003, the Constitution Center is a museum, an education center, and a forum for debate on constitutional issues. The museum dramatically tells the story of the Constitution from Revolutionary times to the present through more than 100 interactive, multimedia exhibits, film, photographs, text, sculpture and artifacts, and features a powerful, award-winning theatrical performance, "Freedom Rising". The Center also houses the Annenberg Center for Education and Outreach, which serves as the hub for national constitutional education. Also, serving as a nonpartisan forum for constitutional discourse, the Center presents – without endorsement – programs that contain diverse viewpoints on a broad range of issues. The Center is also the home of the Liberty Medal award, presented annually as a lasting legacy to the 200th anniversary of the Constitution.
