THE NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER PROMOTES JENNIFER BUTKEWICZ, CHRISTINE DONNELLY, AND VINCENT STANGO

PHILADELPHIA, PA (July 31, 2006) – The National Constitution Center is pleased to announce the promotion of Jennifer Butkewicz to Director of Facility Rentals; Christine Donnelly to Director of Accounting Services; and Vincent Stango to Director of Human Resources.

In her new position as the Director of Facility Rentals, Jennifer Butkewicz will be responsible for the entire facility rentals effort, including sales, marketing, logistics, and food and beverage management. She will also work on improving the marketing and advertising efforts for the facility rentals department.

Butkewicz has worked her entire professional career at the Center. She began in 2003 as Facility Rentals Coordinator, and since 2004, has served as Facility Rentals Manager.

Butkewicz received a double undergraduate degree from the University of Delaware with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology. She resides in West Conshohocken, Pennsylvania with her fiancé, Jay. Outside of the Center, Jennifer and Jay are busy planning their September wedding.

As Director of Accounting Services, Christine Donnelly will oversee the day to day accounting and financial procedures. She will also have a larger role in reporting and auditing functions, and will work closely on insurance and capital improvement issues for the Center.

Donnelly has been with the Center for 16 years, making her the longest tenured employee. She began as the Finance and Project Manager in 1990, and was promoted to Business Manager in 2000.

Donnelly received a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and marketing from Cabrini College. Donnelly resides in Cinnaminson, New Jersey, with her husband, Joe, and two daughters, Caitlin and Julia. She is a member of the Saint Charles Borromeo School Enrichment Committee, where her daughters attend.

As the Director of Human Resources, Vincent Stango will be responsible for the overall administration, coordination, and evaluation of the human resources department. This includes recruitment, salary and benefits administration, and employee relations.

Stango has worked his entire professional career at the Center. When he began seven years ago, he served as Executive Assistant to President Joseph M. Torsella. He was then promoted to Special Projects Coordinator in 2001, and since 2002, worked in Human Resources, first as Administrator and then Manager.

Stango received a Master of Science degree in public administration from Villanova University and his undergraduate degree from Moravian College. He is also currently pursuing a Master of Science degree in human resource development from Villanova University. Stango resides in Haddon Heights, New Jersey, with his wife, Megan, and son, Vincent.

The National Constitution Center, located at 525 Arch St. on Philadelphia's Independence Mall, is an independent, nonpartisan, nonprofit organization dedicated to increasing public understanding of the U.S. Constitution and the ideas and values it represents. Opened on July 4, 2003, the Constitution Center is a museum, an education center, and a forum for debate on constitutional issues. The museum dramatically tells the story of the Constitution from Revolutionary times to the present through more than 100 interactive, multimedia exhibits, film, photographs, text, sculpture and artifacts, and features a powerful, award-winning theatrical
