CELEBRATE GIRL POWER
DURING FIRST SPORTS FAMILY FUN DAY
AT THE NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER

Philadelphia, PA (May 30, 2006) – From Gertrude Ederle to Billie Jean King, Dominique Dawes to Mia Hamm, women have made a significant difference in sports throughout history. Visitors to the National Constitution Center can celebrate female athletes during Sports Family Fun Day: Girl Power Day on Saturday, June 17 from 11:00 a.m. – 2:00 p.m. This free event is one of the Center's monthly Sports Family Fun Days presented in conjunction with the Sports: Breaking Records, Breaking Barriers exhibition. Regular museum admission is not included.

Visitors to the National Constitution Center will have the opportunity to meet different local women's sports clubs and hear from female athletes about their personal sports triumphs. The Philadelphia Girls Rowing Club will be on hand with a rowing machine and scull, and Temple University's Department of Kinesiology will speak to guests about movement and muscles.

Sports Family Fun Days occur one Saturday each month throughout the run of the exhibition, May 26 through August 20, 2006. These events give kids the opportunity to participate in fun and innovative family-oriented activities that complement the Sports exhibition experience. Event participation is free, but museum admission is not included.
