CHRISTINE DONNELLY
Vice President of Finance and Administration
National Constitution Center

In her current role as vice president of finance and administration, Christine Donnelly is responsible for all financial functions of the organization. She oversees the events, facility operations, technology, and exhibit operations departments, as well as the Center’s museum store, parking garage, and dining. She manages capital construction and serves as liaison with the Center’s legal counsel, banking relationship, and insurance brokers.

Christine Donnelly has spent more than two decades working for the National Constitution Center, having joined the institution in 1990, two years after the Center was established by the Constitution Heritage Act. Donnelly was instrumental in the early days before the National Constitution Center became a reality on Independence Mall, serving first as finance and project manager. She has also held positions as business manager, director of accounting services, and director of finance.

Christine Donnelly received a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and marketing from Cabrini College.

A native of Riverton, New Jersey, she resides in Cinnaminson with her husband and two daughters. She is active in the community, serving on the fundraising committee and alumni association for Holy Cross Preparatory Academy. She also served as secretary of the Pomona Swim Club Board and as treasurer for the Holy Cross Parent Booster Club.
