

Learning Center/Bulletin Board

Lesson 4

Materials:

- 3" X 5" index cards (various colors)
- Civics Kids "Let's Hear Your Voice" writing prompt for Lesson 4
- Pencils and tacks

Activity:

As a follow-up to the students participating in the mock trial, this activity gives them the opportunity to examine the facts of the story in making a determination of whether Willy actually should have been declared the winner of the race.

Guide the class in completing the graphic organizer in small groups to discuss some of the considerations in the case. (See organizer and see "You Be the Judge" in Lesson 4.) After discussion of ideas, direct students to post their ideas on the Student Voices Bulletin Board.

Review the "student voices" cards at the conclusion and ask the students to render a final "verdict." Did Willy really win the race?
