NATIONAL CONSTITUTION CENTER

From Jeffrey Rosen

---

2024 was a year full of important constitutional conversations. Through it all, the National Constitution Center provided a forum for civil dialogue and debate as well as educational resources and programming that convened scholars and thought leaders of different perspectives, inspiring learners of all ages to think more deeply about the American idea.

More than 67 million viewers tuned in to watch us serve as the venue for the ABC News Presidential Debate, just weeks before we honored Ken Burns at our 36th annual Liberty Medal Ceremony for his pathbreaking achievements as America's storyteller. Our Constitution 101 course is reaching students and teachers in classrooms across America, in partnership with Khan Academy and other trusted institutions. We began developing new galleries on America's founding and the separation of powers to welcome the millions who will come to Independence Mall in 2026, as well as virtual visitors around the globe.

In this time of increased polarization, the National Constitution Center provides a space for Americans to come together to learn about the constitutional ideals that unite us and open our minds to different viewpoints. As we prepare for America's 250th anniversary, all of us at the Center are honored to work together to increase awareness and understanding of the Constitution and to inspire engagement with America's founding principles. Thank you for being part of our community of lifelong learners and for helping bring nonpartisan constitutional education and civil dialogue to learners of all ages.

With appreciation,

Jeffrey Rosen
President and CEO

Reaching NEW LEARNERS

The National Constitution Center is undertaking an ambitious 50-state strategy to reach America's K-12 students with our unique, proven approach to nonpartisan constitutional education. We're also working to provide teachers with the guidance and flexible classroom resources they need to instill habits of civil dialogue and reflection that will last a lifetime.

Constitution 101

The National Constitution Center's Constitution 101 course provides learners with a basic understanding of the Constitution's text, history, structure, and caselaw. Participants study the historical and philosophical foundations of America's founding principles and learn how to think like constitutional scholars through primary source readings from a range of diverse voices, landmark Supreme Court cases, videos, enrichment and assessment activities, and more.

HIGH SCHOOL COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

The Center's high school Constitution 101 course has reached more than 5 million learners since launching in September 2022, and 2 million in the 2023-2024 school year alone.

“I really love the way that the Constitution 101 program described some big abstract concepts that are hard for students to wrap their heads around. Giving some real tangible tools, this is a really helpful resource for educators to have.”

-Trish Edwards, education consultant
and Teacher Advisory Board member

KHAN ACADEMY PARTNERSHIP

On Constitution Day 2024, the National Constitution Center and Khan Academy launched our Constitution 101 student course on the Khan Academy platform. Featuring hundreds of videos drawn from interviews with 46 leading constitutional experts and dozens of exercises to reinforce learning through Khan's mastery system, the course offers a dynamic and engaging experience. In the first six months post-launch, more than 30,000 learners spent more than 1.1 million minutes on the course.

Coming Soon:

MIDDLE SCHOOL COURSE

Constitution Day 2025 will mark the launch of Constitution 101 for middle school students, providing teachers with a blueprint for learning that addresses the unique educational needs of students in fifth through eighth grade. Each module will feature:

- a “Big Question” to frame the content
- engaging videos and activities
- opportunities to practice vocabulary and connect primary sources with students’ daily lives
- assessments to measure growth in students’ civic knowledge

Meet Lucy!

Our new animated narrator for the videos that accompany each Constitution 101 middle school module will help students explore the Big Questions and see themselves as part of the American story.

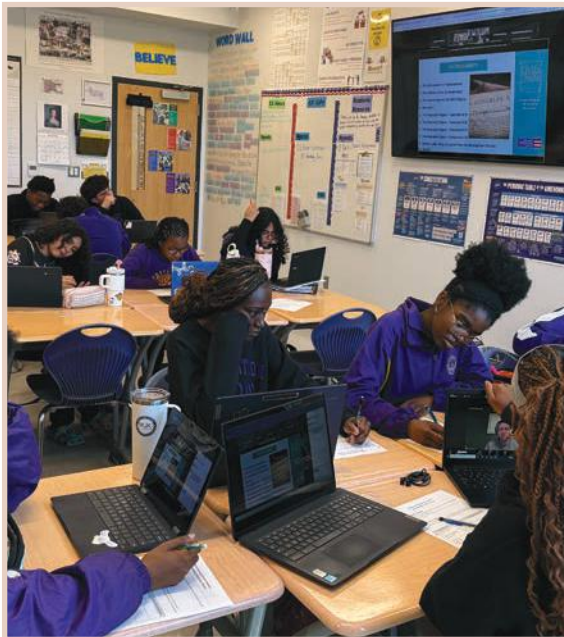

We’ve been working with a select group of middle school educators from our Teacher Advisory Board and Teacher Advisory Council to develop the curriculum, and a cohort of 30 Constitutional Fellows and peer coaches to pilot modules and provide feedback prior to launch.

Educational Resources and Programming

The National Constitution Center offers a range of ways for students to engage with the Constitution, both in person and virtually. Across all our educational programming, we reached 4.3 million learners in the 2023-2024 school year.

LIVE ONLINE CLASSES

Our online peer-to-peer Scholar Exchanges allow students to connect with other classrooms across the country as they practice civil dialogue on constitutional topics together. The 2023-2024 school year saw our highest levels of participation ever for the program, with more than 13,000 students representing more than 560 classrooms joining us.

CLASS TRIPS AND YOUNG CITIZENS SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

More than 6,000 students visited the Center in 2024 as part of our Constitutional Ambassadors half-day workshops, an immersive learning experience that begins in the classroom and continues post-visit through our peer-to-peer Scholar Exchanges.

We were also pleased to welcome more than 5,000 students through our Young Citizens Scholarship Program, which subsidizes admission and travel for students who might not otherwise have the opportunity to visit the Center in person.

COMING SOON: Coming Soon:

CIVIC TOOLKIT AND INTERACTIVE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE

This summer, the National Constitution Center will launch our America 250 Civic Toolkit, the essential guide to America's founding principles. The backbone of the toolkit will be a new Interactive Declaration of Independence, featuring annotations, essays, and historical context from an all-star lineup of scholars.

The toolkit will also feature videos, primary sources, interactives, and teacher and student-facing materials to reinforce learning and inspire discussion.

We'll be working with partners like PBS and The Trust for the National Mall to bring the toolkit and our other educational resources into classrooms and communities across America.

Toolkit Scholars Include:

- Danielle Allen
- Akhil Amar
- David Armitage
- Carol Berkin
- Mary Sarah Bilder
- Lindsay Cheverinsky
- Robert P. George
- Jane Kamensky
- Yuval Levin
- The Honorable Jeffrey S. Sutton
- Gordon S. Wood
- Rosemarie Zagarri

Professional Development

In the 2023-2024 school year, the Center served more than 70,000 educators across all our educational programming—and we're just getting started.

WORKSHOPS AND CONFERENCES

From monthly online professional learning sessions to multi-day institutes or weekend workshops, the National Constitution Center continues to offer a variety of opportunities for teachers to enhance civic and history instruction and constitutional understanding in their classrooms.

Our education team also connected with teachers at social studies conferences across the country, including North Carolina, Maryland, Virginia, Ohio, California, Wisconsin, and Washington, D.C., holding presentations and workshops, and answering attendees' questions about our resources.

DEVELOPMENT

Classrooms have been described as the cradles of constitutional democracy, and the teachers at their helm are truly guardians of the Constitution.”

-Julie Silverbrook,
Vice President of Civic Education

SUMMER TEACHER INSTITUTES

We welcomed 150 teachers for our annual series of intensive multi-day workshops in July, including two weeklong workshops supported by the National Endowment for the Humanities Landmarks of American History and Culture Program on “Exploring the First Amendment.”

COMING SOON: SUTHERLAND TEACHING PROGRAM

Thanks to a generous leadership gift from the Sutherland Family, we'll be able to scale our reach to deliver even more professional development programs and training, both on site at the Center and in communities across the country. We'll also be able to expand our work with our Teacher Advisory Board and Council and develop the programming and resources educators across the country will need for America's 250th anniversary.

CONVENING Convening TOP THINKERS

From our headquarters on Independence Mall to civic institutions and community centers across the country, the National Constitution Center is modeling civil dialogue and building the habits of respectful deliberation, building civic networks and community as we go.

---

Town Halls and Events

TOWN HALLS

Our America's Town Hall programs featured more than 30 discussions with America's leading thinkers on constitutional topics ranging from key moments in history to the latest news developments, drawing audiences of up to 1,000 registrants per event.

A few highlights from 2024 include:

READING THE CONSTITUTION: A BOOK TALK WITH JUSTICE STEPHEN BREYER

Our honorary co-chair, retired Supreme Court Justice Stephen G. Breyer, joined us to share his perspective on interpreting the Constitution and the philosophy of the current Supreme Court's majority.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHALLENGES IN THE AGE OF AI

Tech policy experts Mark Coeckelbergh, Mary Anne Franks, and Marc Rotenberg examined the evolving relationship between artificial intelligence and constitutional principles, and strategies to protect democratic values in the digital age.

NATIVE PEOPLES AND REDEFINING U.S. HISTORY

Historians Ned Blackhawk and Brenda Child explored five centuries of U.S. history to shed light on the central role Indigenous peoples have played in shaping our nation's narrative.

CAN THE CONSTITUTION REVIVE THE AMERICAN DREAM?

Political analyst Yuval Levin and scholar Aziz Rana discussed the Constitution as America's religion and its role in fostering the American dream.

SPECIAL EVENTS

SPECIAL EVENTS

2024 ABC News Presidential Debate

On September 10, 2024, the National Constitution Center was the venue for the ABC News Presidential Debate between Vice President Kamala Harris and former President Donald Trump. More than 67 million viewers across seven networks tuned into the live debate, and round-the-clock coverage in the leadup to the event showcased the Center as a forum for public dialogue.

2024 First Amendment Summit

In partnership with FIRE and NYU's First Amendment Watch, the National Constitution Center convened America's leading thinkers for a vigorous discussion of the state of free speech in America and around the globe, including a keynote conversation about global free speech with Jason Rezaian of The Washington Post, followed by discussions of free speech on campus and in and out of the courts.

36th Annual Liberty Medal

The National Constitution Center closed out September by awarding the 36th Annual Liberty Medal to America's storyteller, renowned documentary filmmaker Ken Burns, for inspiring all of us to learn about the principles at the heart of the American idea.

There's probably no more fitting venue for a political spectacle of this magnitude. In the two decades since the National Constitution Center opened its doors, it's proved to be much more than just a temple to one of our founding documents.”

-Politico

I could not be more humbled for the extraordinary recognition that you bestow on me tonight. ... The National Constitution Center is a place but more importantly an idea too — the essential idea that we can improve our democracy by studying our past, our founding, the women and men of all backgrounds who gave birth to this complicated and glorious republic.”

-Ken Burns, American documentary filmmaker

WE THE PEOPLE

Each week, our We the People podcast provides listeners with insights and informative discussions from experts representing a range of diverse viewpoints.

Highlights from 2024 include:

JUDGE DAVID TATEL ON VISION: A MEMOIR OF BLINDNESS AND JUSTICE

The noted judge and civil rights lawyer reflected on his new memoir, highlights from his career, and some noted recent Supreme Court decisions.

“I am continually amazed by the job Jeffrey Rosen and this podcast do in making contemporary and historical legal issues interesting and educational, even to non-lawyers like me.”

-5-star review on Apple Podcasts, January 2024

LINCOLN, DEMOCRACY, AND THE AMERICAN EXPERIMENT

Historian Allen Guelzo joined Jeffrey Rosen to discuss Lincoln’s powerful vision of democracy and how our 16th president remains relevant as a political thinker today.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL LEGACY OF WATERGATE

Historians Garrett Graff and Robert Doar marked the 50th anniversary of Nixon’s resignation with a look at another pivotal moment in American history and Watergate’s enduring legal legacy.

RECAPPING THE SUPREME COURT’S 2023-24 TERM

As another landmark Supreme Court term drew to a close, Sarah Isgur and Marcia Coyle looked back at some of the term’s most notable cases and decisions.

GRAND RAPIDS CONVENING

In early May 2024, 250 leaders from the business, civic, and education community of Grand Rapids, Michigan, joined us for a two-day convening featuring discussions with Jeffrey Rosen, Gerald R. Ford Presidential Foundation President Gleaves Whitney, journalists David French and Jamelle Bouie, and more. Our team also hosted an in-depth workshop for local educators and plans to return to partner with the Ford Presidential Library and Museum on future professional development workshops.

2025 CONVENINGS AND SCHOLAR TALKS

In 2025, the National Constitution Center will be partnering with civic institutions and community centers like local bookstores, with a particular focus on those in rural and underserved areas, to host talks featuring Jeffrey Rosen and other thought leaders as they address questions and issues at the core of what it means to be American. Wherever possible, our Education team will organize workshops for local educators to help continue the conversation in their classrooms.

CIVIC VIRTUE LECTURE SERIES

Jeffrey Rosen has been traveling across the country to share insights on civic virtue and how we can apply the founders' wisdom in our daily lives. Just a few of the nearly 50 places he's visited to speak in 2024 include:

Transforming OUR EDUCATION CENTER

More than 150,000 visitors joined us in 2024 to explore our exhibits, view live performances like our award-winning Freedom Rising performance, and take part in community days at our headquarters, just steps from where the Declaration and Constitution were drafted and signed. We're working to greet the millions of visitors who will be journeying to America's birthplace for our country's 250th anniversary with new content and opportunities to engage with the story of our founding documents and ideals.

Coming Soon:

AMERICA'S FOUNDING AND SEPARATION OF POWERS GALLERIES

Our reenvisioning of our main exhibit, The Story of We the People, which began with the opening of our First Amendment gallery in 2023, is entering its next phase as we plan for new galleries on America's founding and the separation of powers, just in time to welcome visitors to Independence Mall in 2026.

National Historical Park
Collection, Philadelphia, PA

Library of Congress, Prints and Photographs Division

AMERICA'S FOUNDING

Our America's founding gallery will trace the key moments leading to the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution, America's shift from a loose alliance under the Articles of Confederation to a unified nation, the drafting and ratification of the Constitution, and the development of the Bill of Rights.

The gallery will feature a rare first edition of The Federalist and an original printing of the Acts of the First Session of the First Congress on permanent loan from Judge J. Michael and Elizabeth A. Luttig, and artifacts from Independence National Historical Park's archaeological collection that were uncovered while the Center was under construction.

SEPARATION OF POWERS

The separation of powers gallery will explore each branch of the federal government—executive, legislative, and judicial—how they interact with each other through the system of checks and balances, and how the state and federal governments interact. The powers of each branch—and their expansion or limitations over time—will also be explored.

Community Events and Civic Holidays

SENSORY-FRIENDLY DAYS

2024 saw the return of our Sensory-Friendly Days series, which gives people of all abilities and their families the opportunity to experience the Center in a secure and comfortable environment. We also collaborated with community partners like Art-Reach and the Philadelphia Ballet to develop and provide special programming for visitors on these days.

INDEPENDENCE WEEK RED, WHITE, & BLUE TO-DO

To celebrate America's independence with “pomp and parade” as John Adams envisioned, we co-created and co-led a new celebration with 19 partner institutions across the Philadelphia Historic District on July 2, featuring special programs, a parade, and after-hours trivia.

September 17

Constitution Day

More than 14,000 people joined us in person and virtually for the country's biggest annual celebration commemorating the signing of the Constitution, featuring an array of special programs including:

- A Naturalization Ceremony, featuring a keynote address by MSNBC host and Center board member Ali Velshi, where 48 immigrants from 27 countries became new citizens.
- A conversation with Opal Lee, often described as “the grandmother of Juneteenth,” on her role in establishing the holiday and the many ways we can share stories of the past.
- A Kids Town Hall featuring famous figures from throughout constitutional history.
- Civic Stories for students and an educator lunch with the National Constitution Center's honorary co-chair Supreme Court Justice Neil M. Gorsuch, followed by an evening America's Town Hall discussion of the justice's new book.

“It’s inspiring, the work you do here [at the National Constitution Center]. And I just want to say thank you from the bottom of my heart. Because if there is hope for this country, and I am hopeful, it comes from places and people like this and you.”

-Supreme Court Justice Neil M. Gorsuch,
NCC honorary co-chair

Preparing for AMERICA 250

As 2026 draws ever closer, the National Constitution Center will continue laying the groundwork for the next 250 years of our Republic through our strategic priorities:

- Serving as America's leading provider of nonpartisan constitutional education through our unparalleled online resources for students, teachers, and lifelong learners.
- Modeling and teaching civil dialogue and deliberation across America through in-person and online convenings with participants of all backgrounds and perspectives.
- Providing a national headquarters for learning about our founding documents and principles.

Please join us and the partners and supporters featured in these pages as we spark curiosity and inspire Americans everywhere to rededicate themselves to our founding principles.

“The National Constitution Center reminds us daily through exhibitions, education, engagement, and outreach, through the work of scholars and teachers that our founding documents are not materials to be left in some distant, dusty past, but central to our ongoing story now: the story of us...”

—Ken Burns, American Documentary Filmmaker
