CONSTITUTING LIBERTY: FROM THE DECLARATION TO THE BILL OF RIGHTS

The Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights are the three most important documents in American history. They express the ideals that define “We the People of the United States” and inspire free people around the world.

The National Constitution Center is proud to display a first-edition Stone Engraving of the Declaration of Independence, a rare copy of the first public printing of the U.S. Constitution, and a reproduction of one of the 12 surviving copies of the Bill of Rights in the George H.W. Bush Gallery. The original Bill of Rights, which was exhibited at the Center between 2014 and 2017, is now at The New York Public Library. It will be displayed on a rotating basis to the public in both Pennsylvania and New York for the next 100 years.

THE 19TH AMENDMENT: HOW WOMEN WON THE VOTE

To commemorate the centennial anniversary of voting rights for women in 2020, and as part of its Women and the Constitution initiative, the National Constitution Center presents The 19th Amendment: How Women Won the Vote. The exhibit traces the triumphs and struggles that led to the ratification of the 19th Amendment, and features some of the many women who transformed constitutional history—including Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Alice Paul, and Ida B. Wells—and allows visitors to better understand the long fight for women's suffrage.

The 3,000-square-foot exhibit features nearly 100 artifacts, including a rare printing of the Declaration of Sentiments from the first women's convention at Seneca Falls, a ballot box used to collect women's votes in the late 1800s, Pennsylvania's ratification copy of the 19th Amendment, as well as various "Votes for Women" ephemera.

CIVIL WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION: THE BATTLE FOR FREEDOM AND EQUALITY

The National Constitution Center permanent exhibit is the first in America devoted to exploring the constitutional debates from the Civil War and Reconstruction. The exhibit features key figures central to the era—from Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass to John Bingham and Harriet Tubman—and allows visitors of all ages to learn how the equality promised in the Declaration of Independence was finally inscribed in the Constitution by the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments, collectively known as the Reconstruction Amendments.

Coming Soon

The Center is reimagining more than 20,000 square feet of exhibit space in the Richard and Helen DeVos Exhibition Hall into new galleries. The renovation will kick-off with the opening of The First Amendment in fall 2023, and go through America's semisecular centennial in 2026.
